INTRODUCTION

After preparing this book for the press, the compiler's attention was drawn to one of a somewhat similar nature, with an introduction by the Archbishop of York, from which the following beautiful words are taken, and are inserted here with the kind permission of his Grace:

"We are too unmindful of the blessed dead. We live too little in their fellowship. We forget that they are still members of the one body, although hidden from us by the veil of death: brothers and sisters in the family of God; although they have passed into the inner chamber of our Father's home. They are not dead. They are more truly living than ourselves: for they have laid aside all that is mortal, and they are now all life. They walk before the Lord in the 'true land of the living.'

"Their departure from us is only another and a higher regeneration. The day of their death is a day of birth; and this is truly a birthday book. It is good for us to find occasion, in the anniversaries of their departure, to turn our thoughts to the calm sweet rest which now they share. It helps to lift us above the din and turmoil of the world, and to fill our hearts with heavenly peace.

"As we think of those who have been taken from us, the eye of faith looks, through the tears, within the veil; and the chastened memory of sorrow becomes a spiritual joy."

PREFACE

In bringing out this second edition of Gems of Hope, some changes have been made; an introduction by the Archbishop of York and a Family Register have been added.

The chief object of this little book is to keep alive, more especially in the family circle, the memory and the influence of the blessed departed; to associate these memories with thankfulness and hope, and in some measure to turn our sorrow into joy, by helping us more fully to realize the sweetness of the fellowship which still exists, and the glories of the life beyond.

Each month is introduced with Scripture reminders as helps to a holy life.

The blank pages are for the registration of the names of loved ones opposite the date of their departure, and words of comfort from Holy Scripture; thus we are encouraged to lay up their names before God, and to rest our hope upon the promises with which we here surround them.

Or embalm them in the living Word, as the Presbyterian Review very beautifully says.

January

Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort;

Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

That in me ye might have peace.

2 Cor. i. 3, 4.

That in me ye might have peace.

—St. John xvi. 33.

Peace, perfect peace, in this dark world of sin?
The blood of Jesus, whispers peace within.

Peace, perfect peace, by thronging duties press'd?
To do the will of Jesus, this is rest.

Peace, perfect peace, with sorrows surging round?
On Jesus' bosom naught but calm is found.

Peace, perfect peace, with loved ones far away?
In Jesus' keeping we are safe and they.

Peace, perfect peace, our future all unknown?
Jesus we know, and he is on the throne.

Peace, perfect peace, death shadowing us and ours,
Jesus has vanquish'd death and all its powers.

It is enough: earth's struggles soon shall cease,
And Jesus call us to Heaven's perfect peace.

The Church on earth hath union
With God, the Three in One,
And mystic, sweet communion
With those whose rest is won:

The saints their watch are keeping,
Their cry goes up, "How long?"
And soon the night of weeping
Shall be the morn of song.

Watch ye therefore: for ye know not where the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cockcrow, or in the morning:

Lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping.

And what I say unto you I say unto all watch.

St. Mark xiii. 35.

They whose course on earth is o'er,
Think they of their brethren more?
They before the throne who bow,
Feel they for their brethren now?

We, by enemies distrest—
They in Paradise at rest;
We the captive—they the freed—
We and they are one indeed.

One in all we seek or shun,
One—because our Lord is one;
One in heart and one in love—
We below, and they above.

Those whom many lands divide,
Many mountains, many tides;
Have they with each other part,
Fellowship of heart with heart?

Saints departed even thus
Hold communion still with us;
Still with us, beyond the veil
Praising, pleading without fail.

With them still our hearts we raise,
Share their work and join their praise
Rend'ring worship, thanks and love
To the Trinity above.

I am the good shepherd; the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.

—St. John x. 11.

Phil. iv. 6.

Hast thou within a care so deep
It chases from thine eyelids sleep?
To thy Redeemer take that care,
And change anxiety to prayer.

Whate'er the care which breaks thy rest,
Whate'er the wish that swells thy breast,
Spread before God that wish, that care,
And change anxiety to prayer.

—ANON.

Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief.

Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

This is the first and great commandment.

And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

—St. Matt. xxii. 37-40.

Lord Jesus, as Thou wilt!

Oh, may Thy will be mine;
Into Thy hand of love
I will my all resign.

Through sorrow or through joy,
Conduct me as Thine own,
And help me still to say,
My Lord, Thy will be done!

Lord Jesus, as Thou wilt!

When death itself draws nigh,
To Thy dear wounded side
I would for refuge fly,
Leaning on Thee to go
Where Thou before hast gone;
The rest as Thou shalt please,
My Lord, Thy will be done!

Lord Jesus, as Thou wilt!

All shall be well for me;
Each changing future scene
I gladly trust with Thee.
Straight to my home above
I travel calmly on,
And sing in life or death,
"My Lord, Thy will be done!"

—B. SCHMOLK.

I am that bread of life.

—St. John vi. 48.

Do this in remembrance of me.

—1 Cor. xi. 24.

Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief.

—St Mark ix. 24.

Luke xxii 19 (Sacramental)

Here, O my Lord, I see Thee face to face;

Here would I touch and handle things unseen;
Here grasp with firmer hand th' eternal grace,
And all my weariness upon Thee lean.

Here would I feed upon the bread of God;

Here drink with Thee the royal wine of heaven;
Here would I lay aside each earthly load,
Here taste afresh the calm of sins forgiven.

Too soon we rise; the symbols disappear;

The feast, but not the love, is past and gone;
The bread and wine remove, but Thou art here—
Nearer than ever—still my Shield and Sun.

Feast after feast thus comes and passes by;

Yet passing, points to the great feast above,
Giving sweet foretastes of the festal joy,
The Lamb's great bridal feast of bliss and love.

If we say that we have no sin we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

—1 John i. 8, 9.

Cleanse thou me from my secret faults.

—Psalm. xix. 12.

And she answered, It is well.

—2 Kings iv. 26.

Beloved, "It is well!"

God's ways are always right;
And perfect love is o'er them all,
Though far above our sight.

Beloved, "It is well!"

Though deep and sore the smart,
The hand that wounds knows how to bind
And heal the broken heart.

Beloved, "It is well!"

Though sorrow clouds our way,
'Twill only make the joy more dear
That ushers in the day.

Beloved, "It is well!"

The path that Jesus trod,
Though rough and straight and dark it be,
Leads home to heaven and God.

Though pressed by many a foe;
That will not tremble on the brink
Of poverty or woe;—

That will not murmur nor complain
Beneath the chastening rod:
But, in the hour of grief or pain
Can lean upon its God;—

A faith that shines more bright and clear
When tempests rage without;
That when in danger know no fear,
In darkness feels no doubt;—

A faith that keeps the narrow way
Till life's last spark is fled,
And with a pure and heavenly ray
Lights up a dying bed.

Lord give us such a faith as this,
And then whate'er may come,
I'll taste e'en here the hallowed bliss
Of an eternal home.

We have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

Come, let us join our friends above
Who have obtain'd the prize,
And on the eagle wings of love
To joys celestial rise!

Let all the saints terrestrial sing,
With those to glory gone:
For all the servants of our King,
In earth and heav'n, are one.

One family we dwell in Him,
One church above, beneath,
Though now divided by the stream,
The narrow stream, of death.

One army of the living God
To His command we bow:
Part of His host have cross'd the flood,
And part are crossing now.

Our spirits too shall quickly join,
Like theirs with glory crown'd,
And shout to see our Captain's sign,
To hear His trumpet sound.

They were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles,
. . . what shall we do?

Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptised every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.

Buried with him in baptism.

—Col. ii. 12.

With Christ we share a mystic grave,
With Christ we buried lie;
But 'tis not in the darksome cave
By mournful Calvary.

The pure and bright baptismal flood
Entombs our nature's stain;
New creatures from the cleansing wave
With Christ we rise again.

Thrice blest, if through this world of sin,
And lust, and selfish care,
Our resurrection-mantle white
And undefiled we wear.

Thrice blest, if through the gate of death,
Glorious at last and free,
We to our joyful rising pass,
O risen Lord, with Thee.

St John xvi. 7.

Our blest Redeemer, ere He breathed
His tender last farewell,
A Guide, a Comforter, bequeathed
With us to dwell.

He came sweet influence to impart,
A gracious, willing Guest,
While He can find one humble heart
Wherein to rest.

And His that gentle voice we hear,
Soft as the breath of even;
That checks each thought, that calms each fear
And speaks of heaven.

And every virtue we possess,
And every conquest won,
And every thought of holiness
Are His alone.

Spirit of purity and grace,
Our weakness, pitying see:
O make our hearts Thy dwelling place,
And worthier Thee.

O praise the Father: praise the Son:
Blest Spirit, praise to Thee:
All praise to God, the Three in One,
The One in Three.

O Almighty God, who hast knit together thine elect in one communion and fellowship, in the mystical body of Thy Son Christ our Lord; we humbly beseech Thee of Thy goodness to comfort and succour all them who in this transitory life are in trouble, sorrow, need, sickness, or any other adversity. And we also bless Thy holy name for all Thy servants departed this life in Thy faith and fear;
beseeching Thee to give us grace so to follow their good examples, that with them we may be partakers of those unspeakable joys which Thou has prepared for all them that unfeign-edly love Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord.
